FREE mini unit study

Born January 15th in Atlanta, GA, Martin Luther King, Jr. became one of the most important people in the Civil Rights movement. At age 19, Martin Luther King, Jr. graduated from Morehouse College and then, a few years later, he graduated from Crozer Theological Seminary. It wasn't long after that that he met and married his wife, Coretta Scott King.

During King's lifetime, he saw the beginnings of desegregation, though it was nowhere near what he would've liked to have taken place. His "I Have a Dream" speech outlines some of what he would like to see for his kids and grandkids (and really, the entire nation). King spent the rest of his life focusing on advancing freedoms and equality for African-Americans and even received the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. Sadly, King was assassinated just four years later.
